Dear Selaine

On behalf of my members, I wanted to thank you for securing the Westminster Hall debate last week on British red meat and dairy. The debate provided a perfect opportunity to celebrate farmers, the role they have played during the pandemic and their part in helping the country achieve its net zero ambition.

As you noted, the debate was particularly timely given it was Great British Beef Week and as a South West farmer myself, I was very pleased to see the fantastic representation from South West MPs speaking during the session.

I thoroughly enjoyed listening to the debate, and to your speech in particular. Your on-going, tireless work on behalf of your farmers is recognised and very much appreciated.

Thank you once again and hope to catch up with you soon.

With best wishes
